

Faculty Manual

Teachers and parents, welcome to the Forest Academy's Resource Center! You will find a wealth of information here to help you build a learning program about trees and the forest.

Click on the items in the menu on the left, which divides this website's content into concise themes. Teachers, you can print out two-sided documents and distribute them to your students for in-class discussion, either to support your existing curriculum or as an introduction before the youngsters enrol to become Forest Masters through our online academy. You can also keep a printed copy in your files for further consultation.

Parents, through the experiments, you can provide a hands-on learning experience for your kids that is both fun and educational!

Our photo album gives you visuals of some 75 species of trees and their components, and the lexicon provides comprehensive tree and forest terminology.

We hope you enjoy your foray into the forest!
